How to register for an online account

Overview

B2B Registration allows a trade (wholesale or business) customer user to register for B2B access and have their user (login) account linked to our ERP debtor account. Users with active accounts can log on and will receive that account's default settings (i.e. Pricing, Warehouse, Contract Information etc).

Before you start

Understand B2B user registration process:

Step-by-step. Register for an online account.

1. Navigate to any page of our website (oemdynamics.com.au) click LOGIN on right-top navigation menu.

2. On the Login page, click “Register Now”.

The screenshot shows the OEM Dynamics Login page. It has fields for 'Username / Email*' and 'Password*'. Below these are checkboxes for 'Remember email' and 'Forgot Your Password?'. At the bottom are three buttons: 'Login', 'Register Now', and 'Apply to access my Trade Account'. The 'Apply to access my Trade Account' button is highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it from the text below.

On the register page, fill out Your Details (1) and create a password (2), then enter the validation code as shown (3) click Register (4).

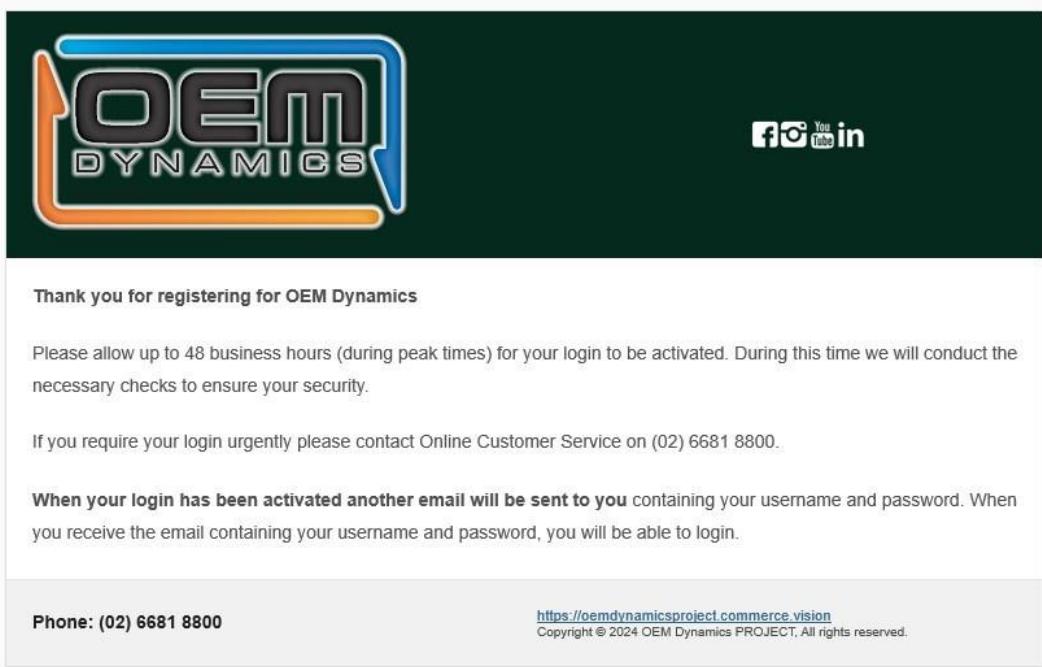

The screenshot shows the OEM Dynamics Register page. It has four main sections: 1. 'Your Details' (containing fields for First Name, Last Name, Email Address, Confirm Email Address, Phone Number, Company, and Customer Account Code). 2. 'Create Password' (containing fields for Password and Confirm Password, and a CAPTCHA image with the code '572088'). 3. 'Validation Code' (containing a field for 'Please enter the validation code*' with a red circle '3' over it). 4. 'Register' (a button at the bottom with a red circle '4' over it).

3. After clicking Register button, you will see a “Thank you for registering” page and receive an email informing you the registration is subject to approval. Our Customer Service team will action the request. The application approval process can take up to 48 business hours.
